Two women run over by train at Mandya Station

Deceased failed to take note despite repeated honking by Loco Pilot

Mandya, Jan. 25 (Mohan Raj& BCT)- Two women, who alighted from a train, were run over by another speeding train at Mandya Town Railway Gate this morning. In a tearing hurry to cross the Railway line, the women did not pay attention to the approaching train from Mysuru though the loco pilot was honking continuously.

Unconfirmed reports said that while one woman, who was caught right in the middle of the tracks, was speaking on her mobile phone, the other lady, who was standing next to the tracks, tried to jump off but was caught under the wheels of the train. The incident occurred between 9.30 am and 10 am. Reports said that the women, one aged around 60 and the other around 35, were travelling from Bengaluru to Mandya in the Kacheguda Express.

Many people had alighted the train and these women failed to notice the approaching Malgudi Express that was heading from Mysuru to Bengaluru. The women were run over right in front of other commuters.

Eyewitness Renuka told reporters that it was business-as-usual where many passengers got down from the Kacheguda Express. "Even I came in that train and was sitting on the platform. I heard loud screams where the Railway parcel movers were seen alerting a young woman who was standing next to the tracks. The parcel movers were asking the young lady to move aside as the Malgudi Express was fast approaching," she recalled.

"I raised my neck and saw an elderly woman right in the middle of the tracks and she was run over by the train within seconds. The younger woman, who was alerted by the parcel movers, tried to jump off but was eventually caught under the wheels," she said.

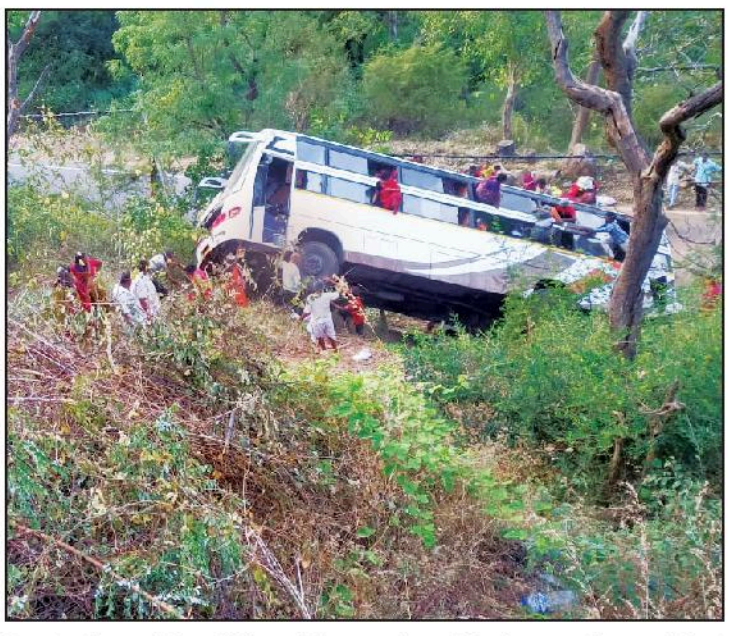
"Unfortunately, the two women did not even hear the loud honking sound of the speeding Malgudi Express and they might have presumed that the shrill horn was that of Kacheguda Express that was getting ready to leave for Mysuru," Renuka said.

The identities of the women are yet to be established and local villagers said that the elderly woman is the mother of the younger woman and they hailed from Shivalli village near Mandya. However, the Police and the Railway Protection Force are yet to confirm the identities.

The Police have taken possession of their bags and belongings and have shifted the bodies to Mandya Institute of Medical Sciences (MIMS) mortuary.

15 Gujarat tourists injured as bus rolls into gorge in MM Hills

Mysuru, Jan. 25 (MTY&BCT)- Over 15 passengers — all senior citizens — of a tourist double-deck bus from Gujarat sustained injuries when the driver lost control over the vehicle in a hairpin bend and as a result, the bus fell into a deep gorge in the Male Mahadeshwara (MM) Hill Range this morning.



The bus, with a sitting and sleeping deck, had over 40 senior citizens and they had come on a South India tour. After finishing their Mysuru trip, they headed towards MM Hills and after the darshan of the presiding deity, they were heading towards Palar in Tamil Nadu.

The route has many hairpin bends and the bus driver could not manoeuvre the huge-bodied vehicle in the second hairpin bend at around 8 am. While negotiating the curve, one of the wheels slid towards the gorge. Due to the sudden sliding of the wheel, the bus rolled into the deep gorge and the rear portion landed on the road below the hairpin bend.

Eyewitnesses said that fortunately, the elders escaped with minor injuries as the accident took place in the second hairpin bend. The third, fourth and fifth hairpin bends are further steep and all of them have deeper and rocky ravines. An accident there would have caused more damage and loss of lives, the eyewitnesses said.

Soon after the accident, other commuters and local villagers shifted the injured to the Male Mahadeshwara Primary Health Centre (PHC). The elders are shell-shocked due to their age factor and it is yet to be decided if they want to continue their trip further south or return to Gujarat.

Talk on 'Science of Happiness' on Jan. 28

Prof. Kumar

Mysuru, Jan. 25- Mysore Open Forum has organised a talk on 'The Science of Happiness' by Prof. V.N.K. Kumar on Saturday (Jan. 28) at 10 am at Kalpa Kshetra Auditorium, 581/1, Vijayanagar 4th Stage, 1st Phase, Mysuru.

Professor V.N.K. Kumar has a degree in Mechanical Engineering (Calcutta) and an MBA from the Indian Institute of Management (Ahmedabad). He has worked as a Training Manager at TELCO, SAIL and CUMI and has been a professor of Management at Xavier Institute of Management, Ranchi. He has just published a book on "The Science of Happiness".

"While we are all looking for happiness, only a few of us ever completely attain it. But happiness matters! People who are happy not only enjoy life but also tend to have better relationships, are physically healthier and are much more productive. Though science seems to indicate that genetic influence plays a large role in our happiness, the speaker shows how we can manufacture our own happiness by engaging in voluntary and intentional activities. Using a unique and scientific model, the speaker explores the Influence of the Past, Expectations of the Future, and Experiences of the Present, to cull out a set of actions that can transform one's life from dull and drab to a life brimming with gratitude, hope, and joy, leading to a happy and meaningful life," says Dr. V.R. Anil Kumar of Mysore Open Forum. The talk is open to all. Contact Mob: 94498-19536.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Most of us experience existential angst at some point or other. We may ask, why was I born? What is the purpose of my life? What is reality? Many more such questions arise, and we could find answers, somewhat satisfactory. Extrapolate this to Brahmand, the Universe, and it becomes a different ball game altogether. How and when did the universe come into being? What is it made of? Scientists can answer these questions. But when we ask 'why', we enter the realm of metaphysics and the concept of Brahmn, the universal consciousness that permeates entire Brahmand, the physical, mental and spiritual universes that are limitless, mysterious, often unfathomable, yet alluring, full of wonder and surprises. Daresay, that where science ends, Brahmn jnana begins.

The unchanging reality, called Brahmn, the highest common denominator in the triple multiverses we occupy — physical, mental, spiritual — is full of wondrous secrets, the field of infinite possibility, deep source of all consciousness and energy, Shiv and Shakti, that you experience within you, the perfected microcosm. When you have the urge to know more, when you are so thirsty for Brahmn jnana, you become a jigyasu, a curious seeker impelled by the need to know, NOW. It cannot wait for the morrow, you are fired up to immediately begin exploring Brahmn and Brahmand — you are on a jnana mission, unstoppable, ready to take-off into the unknown. That is what sets apart a jigyasu from a person who asks questions, teetering on the brink of the unreal and the real, and then is distracted by worldly dealings, still trapped in maya.

Brahmn jnana is within grasp, only if you are fired by the hunger to know, as if your life depends on it, NOW. The word 'now' assumes super powerful vitality, because spirituality is concerned with the now, the present, the immediate — the past and the future do not matter. That's the urgency of the jigyasa, the curious seeker of Brahmn jnana. Every chapter of the Yog Sutras of Patanjali, Narad Bhakti Sutras and the Bhagavadgita, starts with the word 'atha', which means NOW. — Samir Jain in The Times of India

Sculpture and architecture inspired tattoos

Copenhagen: Talented tattoo artist Ruben Jordan Langsted, specialises in photo-realistic black and grey tattoos with high contrast and soft shadows.

Born in Norway but currently working out at the Dropout Collective tattoo shop in Copenhagen, Denmark, Ruben Jordan Langsted is regarded as one of the world's best tattooers when it comes to realistic black and grey tattoos. He claims that he only does this style of tattoo simply because he's "not good at anything else," but according to other sources, he does it because it is such a technically demanding style that no matter how good you get, there is always room for improvement. Looking at some of his black and grey artworks inspired by classic sculptures and artistic interior design, it's hard to believe he could do any better.

Liquid nitrogen infused snacks cause stomach burns

Jakarta: Several kids in Indonesia have reportedly suffered stomach burns after consuming a popular liquid nitrogen-containing street snack called 'chiki ngebul'.

Commonly known as 'dragon's breath' in Indonesia, chiki ngebul is an assortment of rainbow-colored candies coated in a cloud of liquid nitrogen mist that causes the person eating them to exhale that mist, like a dragon. However, health experts warn that if the snack is consumed before the liquid nitrogen has evaporated, it poses a very real risk of intestinal burns and perforations.

So far, over 20 kids have been diagnosed with stomach burns after allegedly filming themselves eating chiki ngebul as part of a dangerous social media trend.

Street vendor blocks footpath near new DC Office on Mysuru-Bannur Road

Sir,

The footpath near new Deputy Commissioner's Office complex on Mysuru - Bannur Road is blocked by a street vendor. As a result, pedestrians walk on the footpath on this busy stretch.

There is no hump or traffic signal on this particular stretch near CPWD Office to cross which is also life threatening. Vehicles move at a greater speed.

One vendor has completely blocked the footpath space, without bothering about the consequences, even after telling him umpteen times to leave the gap on footpath for easy pedestrian movement.

Instead, the vendor has been telling us to take the road. MCC authorities should take action by clearing footpath space from Milk Dairy junction to new DC Office.

'Kayaka Samaja, SC, STs must unite'

Urilinga Peddi Mutt Seer releases former MLC K.C. Puttasiddashetty's work 'Hongirana' at Mega Convention of Karnataka Rajya Kayaka Samajagala Okkoota

Mysuru, Jan. 25 (RKB&BS)- Sri Urilinga Peddi Mutt Seer Sri Jnanaprakash Swamiji has said, "If four crore people including 2.3 crore belonging to Kayaka Samaja (working class) and two crore belonging to SC/ ST show unity, Loka Sabha and Vidhana Sabha will be ours (meaning that we will have a say) and hence, all should understand this."

Addressing the gathering at State Representatives Meeting at Mega Convention of Karnataka Rajya Kayaka Samajagala Okkoota at the Institution of Engineers-India (IEI) on JLB Road in city on Monday, Sri Jnanaprakash Swamiji said, "12th century social reformer Basavanna gave a call to working classes to have self-respect and built unity among them towards creating a welfare society. Hence, the working classes should show unity as envisioned by Basavanna."

Retired Professor of University of Mysore, B.P. Mahesh Chandra Guru said, "The working classes that made significant contributions to economy are rendered jobless. They are being ignored without financial stability. The Governments that have forgotten to empower such classes are under the control of capitalists. The working classes have fallen prey and hence, these classes should give due importance to education and employment."

Historian Prof. P.V. Nanjaraj Urs said, "Those in power exploit us and they resort to announcements when in power. We need results, not mere announcements. The political parties must realise for how many working classes have been given ticket to contest elections. Hence, all must act in unison and retain their self-respect."

Floral tribute was paid to Brahmashri Narayana Guru on the occasion. Former VC Prof. P. Venkataramaiah inaugurated the Convention.

'Hongirana,' a book authored by former MLC K.C. Puttasiddashetty was also released during the convention.

State President of Ganiga Mahasabha Dr. Vijaykumar, Working President of Karnataka Rajya Kayaka Samajagala Okkoota Shivaputrappa Itagi, General Secretary C.N. Lakshmikanth, Mysuru Jilla Savita Samaja President N.R. Nagesh, Zilla Uppara Sangha President Yogesh Uppar were present on the occasion.

Caustic remarks on PM Modi triggers wordy duel

Mysuru, Jan. 25 (RKB&BS)- Pandemonium was witnessed for sometime as retired Professor of University of Mysore B.P. Mahesh Chandra Guru made caustic remarks referring to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, riling up a section of the audience at the Mega Convention of State Representatives of Karnataka Rajya Kayaka Samajagala Okkoota at IEI in city on Monday.

The irked Ganiga leaders from Chamarajanagar, Jayaram Shetty, Ankashetty and several others picked up a wordy duel with Prof. Guru, creating a tensed atmosphere for sometime.

Prof. Guru questioned the leaders — Are you Modi's slaves? You should oppose ideologically, not by resorting to duel, which enraged the leaders further, who rushed towards dais and took Prof. Guru to task, besides insisting to tender an apology.

Former MLC K.C. Puttasiddashetty, also the State President of Karnataka Rajya Kayaka Samajagala Okkoota, who intervened, promised to tender apology on behalf of Prof. Guru, thus bringing the situation under control.

Earlier, as the situation heated up, the peeved leaders said, "it was improper to mix politics in the meeting that is convened to discuss about the development of Kayaka Samaja (working communities). It is also not right to criticise Modi and hence, the speech (of Prof. Guru) should be stopped."

Even though Prof. Guru made a bid to pacify the leaders with his own version, commotion continued. The leaders, who refused to budge, shot back at Prof. Guru asking — Has the society progressed even 75 years after independence? Is it right to seek Nehruvian style administration?

Prof. Guru argued that 'Globalisation is only helping haves, while the banks are not disbursing loan to others. The Government is only interested in votes than development. The Government is being controlled by 'priestly class and capitalists', hence, Shudras and Dalits remain without any progress. The rulers have turned a blind eye towards upliftment of working classes who form the backbone of economy.

Prof. Guru questioned, 'Why working classes should continue with the traditional occupations that denote castes, sowing the seeds of inequality. They should discontinue such occupations to bring social reforms.'

"Prime Minister Narendra Modi has been killing Dalits, hardworking and helpless people through privatisation. We want Nehruvian style leadership, as he had nationalised all the sectors thus helping the society by creating jobs. But, Modi is indulged in creating a evil system by selling all to capitalists," said Prof. Mahesh Chandra Guru.

Murderous assault on man at Maddur Taluk Office

Maddur, Jan. 25- A man has been brutally assaulted with a machete in front of Office staff and hundreds of people at Maddur Taluk Office yesterday afternoon and it is suspected that old enmity had led to the murderous assault. People, including the Office staff, who witnessed the incident, ran helter-skelter, but a few threw stones on the accused, caught hold of him and handed him over to the Police besides shifting the critically injured person to a hospital.

While the seriously injured man has been identified as 45-year-old Channaraju of Maraliga village in Koppa hobli of Maddur taluk, the man who assaulted him is Nandan of the same village.

Details: There was a dispute between Channaraju and Nandan over a land in the village and the hearing was going on since many years at the Tahsildar Court. Channaraju and Nandan had come to the Tahsildar Court on Tuesday for the hearing and were waiting near the Tahsildar's chamber. But suddenly, Nandan reportedly threw chilli powder into Channaraju's eyes, took out the machete he had brought with him and lunged forward to attack

Channaraju, who managed to escape to the first floor of the Taluk Office and came to the front side of the Taluk Office premises. But Nandan, who chased Channaraju, struck Channaraju with the machete, who fell down in the parking lot. Nandan then reportedly struck Channaraju more than 20 times with the machete causing severe bleeding from the injuries.

Meanwhile, a few people, who saw Channaraju writhing in pain and lying in a pool of blood, threw stones on Nandan, caught hold of him, beat him black and blue and handed him over to the Police. Channaraju, who was severely injured, was rushed to the Government Hospital in the town where he was provided first-aid and was later shifted to MIMS Hospital in Mandya.

Accused Nandan, who too had suffered injuries following the public trashing him, has been admitted to Maddur Government Hospital.

Based on the complaint lodged by Channaraju's wife Padma, Maddur Police have registered a case. Tahsildar T.N. Narasimhamurthy, Maddur Rural Circle Inspector Manojkumar, Sub-Inspectors Umesh and Ravi visited the spot.

Old enmity: Meanwhile, Channaraju's wife Padma said that her daughter was in love with a boy for which she and her husband Channaraju had objected. But a few people including Nandan took her daughter and got her married with the boy she was in love and this was told to her by her daughter.

It was here the enmity between Nandan and Channaraju began and grew which was leading to frequent fights, she said and added that Nandan had threatened to kill them following which a complaint was lodged against Nandan at the local Police Station.

She further stated that Channaraju had registered the part of their ancestral land which was given to him in her (Padma) and her daughter's name. Though Nandan had nothing to do with it, he had filed a case seeking a portion of the land. Though a panchayat was held at the village, nothing happened and finally Channaraju and Padma filed a case at the Tahsildar Court.

Padma further said that as there was a hearing at the Tahsildar's Court on Tuesday, she and her husband had come to the Taluk Office during which Nandan brutally assaulted her husband and added that she too had suffered injuries on her hand, ear, head and back when she tried to prevent Nandan from assaulting her husband.

Stating that no one came forward to save her husband when he was being assaulted by Nandan mercilessly despite her pleading for help, she said that Nandan stopped assaulting her husband Channaraju only when a lawyer hit Nandan with a stone.

Superintendent of Police (SP) N. Yathish visited MIMS Hospital in Mandya and collected information pertaining to the health condition of Channaraju.

40 of 60 grievances settled at second MUDA Adalat

Mysuru, Jan. 25 (MK&BCT)- The second Adalat held by the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) yesterday addressed the grievances of 40 residents on the spot out of the total 60 applications received. The Adalat was held in the MUDA Chairman's Office Hall as it rained outside.

Token system was followed and the applicants were called inside as per the number allotted and the grievances were personally heard by MUDA Chairman Yashaswi S. Somashekar and Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar. The issues that were settled included Khata transfer, possession certificate, Pouthi Khata transfer and alternative site allotment.

Mangalamma of Hebbal narrated her ordeal to the Chairman and said that her land was acquired by MUDA before 2008 and was promised a 20X30 site and a compensation of Rs. 12,000. "My close relatives have taken the money and the site but I did not receive a single rupee and I have been visiting the MUDA Office since 2008," she said.

K. Vijayalakshmi of K.R. Mohalla said that she has two properties at K.R. Mohalla and wanted a single Khata for the two properties. "When I go to the MUDA Office, they shift the responsibility to the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and at MCC, they are saying MUDA has to allot a single Khata. At least please issue a letter that MUDA cannot issue Khata for two sites," she pleaded.

Parvathi complained that she had applied for a 50X30 site at R.T. Nagar in 1992 and the MUDA had sanctioned a plot under site number 959. But the officers refused to issue Khata and the same site number has now been allotted to someone else, denying her the right.

Faizan Khan, a resident of Rajivnagar Third Stage complained that he has constructed a house in that area and planned to shift there in a month or so but the drainage system in front of the house has not been provided and there is an open manhole near his house that is filled with garbage. He also said that MUDA has not provided electricity connection to his house. Responding to the complaint, MUDA Commissioner Dinesh Kumar directed Assistant Executive Engineer Rajendra to visit the area immediately and address the issues.

Later speaking to reporters, MUDA Chairman Yashaswi Somashekar said that as rain disrupted the proceedings of the second Adalat, only 60 applications were received and 40 grievances have been resolved on the spot. "We have been receiving an overwhelming response to the Adalat and even the officers are participating enthusiastically," he added.

MUDA Secretary N.C. Venkataraju, Superintending Engineer Channakeshava, members Lakshmidevi, Naveen Kumar, Town Planner Shesha and other officers were present.

Tourists injured as bus rolls into gorge in MM Hills

The patients have been advised a day's rest before they decide on their travel plans. The bus agent is making alternative transport arrangements for the tourists as the bus in which they began their trip is mangled and needs a new body built. Male Mahadeshwara Hills Inspector Basavaraju and team visited the accident spot.

It may be recalled here that on Jan. 6, the alert driver of a tourist bus from Gujarat averted a major accident as fire was noticed in the vehicle atop Chamundi Hill.

The bus was carrying 50 tourists and a fire started erupting from the silencer due to a fuel leak. The fire was, however, immediately noticed by the alert driver. He turned off the ignition and alerted the passengers who alighted in no time. Later, the leakage was plugged and the tourists resumed their journey.

Leopard attacks: District Minister warns Forest officials of stringent action

T. Narasipur, Jan. 25- In the wake of leopard attacks, which had claimed four lives in a span of four months in T. Narasipur taluk alone, District Minister S. T. Somashekar has warned of stringent action against officials if they fail to check the recurrence of man-animal conflicts.

District Minister S.T. Somashekar, who spoke to media persons, after handing over the compensation cheque for Rs. 10 lakh to the parents of 11-year-old Jayanth of Horalahalli in T. Narasipur, who was killed in leopard attack on Jan.21 said, "Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has conducted a high-level meeting of officers and the Deputy Commissioner Dr. K. V. Rajendra has already issued directions to harvest sugarcane at the earliest, besides issuing shoot-at-sight order on killer leopards. As it is a sensitive issue involving animals and Forest Department, the Chief Minister has called for adequate measures in the interest of public. If the Forest Department officials are found lackadaisical in approach, the Chief Minister will take a serious look into it."

Dalit leader Algod Shivakumar vented his ire during the District Minister's visit, blaming Forest Department officials for not responding to the woes of the general public and behaving irresponsibly. "Four persons have already lost their lives in leopard attacks in T. Narasipur taluk, but neither yourself (District Minister) nor Deputy Commissioner preferred to visit the spot. It is only after the public outrage, Deputy Commissioner visited recently," he alleged.

Had the Forest Department acted swiftly during leopard attacks on livestock, the fatal attacks on human beings could have been avoided. Moreover, it is incorrect to give compensation in different stages, said Shivakumar.

Take help of armed Cops: CM

Bengaluru, Jan.25- In the wake of combing operation involving 158 Forest personnel launched to trap the elusive leopard in T. Narasipur taluk in Mysuru district, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has directed the officials to take the assistance of armed Police forces, if necessary to trap the animal.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai instructed the officials at a meeting held here yesterday, to take up swift combing operation within three to four km radius of the place of incident. In all, 21 villages in T. Narasipur taluk are affected by leopard attack and locals help should be taken to trap the animal.

District Minister S.T. Somashekar, who visited T. Narasipur taluk yesterday, handing over the compensation cheque to the parents of the boy who was killed in leopard attack.

Replying to Shivakumar, the District Minister said "Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai will take a call on issuing compensation in a single shot. It is inappropriate to discuss about such issues when we have come to console the grieving family members. The Deputy Commissioner has drawn Chief Minister's attention towards the deaths caused by leopards. I have also issued instructions to intensify combing operation."

T. Narasipur MLA M. Ashwin Kumar insisted on clearing the bushes at villages in the taluk and said that the Taluk Administration, Forest Department and Gram Panchayat should act in this regard. Even the public should clean their sites, as it is unfair to pass the buck on officers for all. Everybody has responsibility towards addressing the issue, he added.

Following the complaint that Forest Department was still not acting on the compensation in relation to leopard claiming the life of a goat, MLA Ashwin Kumar directed Range Forest Officer Nadeem to take action at the earliest.

Earlier, District Minister Somashekar called on the family members of Siddamma of Kannayakanahalli (who was killed by a leopard on Jan. 20) and issued a compensation cheque for Rs. 13 lakh.

SP Seema Latkar, Dy.SP Govindaraju, Tahsildar C.G. Geetha, Taluk Panchayat Executive Officer Krishna, former MLC C. Ramesh, District BJP President Mangala Somashekar, Taluk President K.C. Lokesh Nayak, Councillor S. K. Kiran, JD(S) Taluk President Chinnaswamy, BJP leader Samrat Sundareshan, Mugur Shivamurthy, Kebbehundi Shivakumar, Kurbur Shivu, Jayapal Bharani, Rajanna, Shivakumar Baddu, Ukkalagere Kumar and President of Sosale Mahashakti Kendra Neragyathanahalli Puttaswamy and villagers were present during the District Minister's visit.

Calf killed in suspected leopard attack at K. C. Layout

Mysuru, Jan. 25 (MTY&BS)- Close on the heels of frequent leopard attacks in T. Narasipur taluk in the district, that has claimed four lives in four months (starting from Oct.30, 2022 to Jan.21, 2023), a carcass of a partially devoured calf was found at K. C. Layout on Chamundi Hill main road in city.

While the locals believe it to be a case of leopard attack, Forest Department suspect it to be a case of stray dog attack. No pug marks were found near the place of incident but still, the Forest Department has promised to place the cage in the locality as a precautionary measure.

The one-year-old calf belonging to a resident of K.C. Layout, was found killed in late night on Tuesday.

Though the movement of leopards were reported earlier, no fatal case had occurred, except for the leopard attack on a man at near Jockey Quarters over a decade ago.

With yesterday's incident, the residents of K.C. Layout fear that the big wild cats are turning towards the fringes of the city, with Forest Department stepping up combing operation in T. Narasipur taluk and surroundings.

Chamundi Hill that is surrounded by a reserve forest is a known habitat of leopards, that are often spotted, with many incidents of visitors encountering leopards reported earlier.

Krishnaraja MLA S.A. Ramdas visited the spot and summoned Forest Department officials. The MLA directed the Forest personnel to take precautionary measures and keep a track on leopard movement. Other than that, the footages of CCTV cameras installed in the locality should be assessed to trace and trap the leopard, Ramdas added.

The MLA also allayed the fear among locals by saying that "there is nothing to fear about the animal. The operation to trap the leopard will be taken up soon and the locals also should stay alert."

Range Forest Officer (RFO) K. Surendra and staff visited K.C. Layout and took stock of the situation. They also conducted a combing operation at bushy areas in the locality.

KSRTC's 'Ambaari Utsav' luxury buses to give 'aircraft-feeling'

Chairman claims amalgamation of Mysuru KSRTC City-Sub-Urban Divisions reduced losses

KSRTC Chairman M. Chandrappa (left) addressing mediapersons in city on Monday as KSRTC Divisional Controller Ashok Kumar looks on.

Mysuru, Jan. 25 (MTY&BCT)- The Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) will soon purchase 'Ambaari Utsav' luxury category buses to give an 'aircraft-feeling' to travellers. In addition, 50 electric buses have started arriving from Hyderabad in phases, said KSRTC Chairman M. Chandrappa.

Speaking to reporters on Monday after a meeting with the Mysuru Divisional KSRTC officials at the Bannimantap Bus Depot, Chandrappa said that the KSRTC has come in for public appreciation as it has introduced many luxury buses for ease of travel.

"Buses like Ambaari, Club Class sleepers and Airavata are the most preferred mode of transport and people are opting for a risk-free and comfortable travel in KSRTC luxury buses than in other modes of transport," he said.

"Very soon, the KSRTC will introduce 'Ambaari Utsav' buses that will be super luxurious and will provide a special travelling experience. We will start the services of 20 such buses to different destinations," he added.

The KSRTC is procuring over 700 new buses, including Sarige and luxury variants and the buses will be distributed to Mysuru Division also as per its schedules and daily trips. "550 Sarige buses, 50 electric buses, 40 non-AC sleeper, 20 Ambaari Utsav, 50 city vehicles for intra-city service, 4 13.5-metre-long AC sleeper buses and four 13.4-metre-long non-AC sleeper buses are being procured," he said.

"There are grand plans to purchase 350 electric buses in the future and many old and fuel-guzzling buses will be replaced. Over 3,000 buses will be sent to the scrapyard and all those buses that have travelled 9 lakh kilometres will qualify as scrap buses. The COVID pandemic prevented KSRTC from purchasing new buses in the last two years and we were forced to use the buses that have already run 9 lakh kilometres. Now we will scrap all those buses," he disclosed.

Once the charging stations are completed and the remaining electric buses arrive from Hyderabad, they will be operated between Bengaluru-Madikeri and Bengaluru-Virajpet. The KSRTC is already operating the service in the Mysuru-Bengaluru route which is quite popular. Other destinations that are targeted are Chikkamagalur, Davanagere, Madikeri, Virajpet and Shivamogga, he added.

The Mysuru division has proposed to operate 'AC Ambaari Dream Class' buses from Mysuru to Tirupati, Hyderabad, Chennai, Mantralaya and Ernakulam. "Also, ten non-AC sleeper buses will be operated by the Mysuru division on the routes including Bengaluru-Mysuru-Kozhikode, Mysuru-Kundapura, Mysuru-Bengaluru-Gokarna, Mysuru-Udupi and Mysuru-Belagavi.

On the amalgamation of the Mysuru Rural and Mysuru Sub-Urban KSRTC Divisions, Chandrappa said that the amalgamation has reduced losses. "In 2020-21, the Mysuru Division suffered a loss of Rs. 161 crore, in 2021-22, it was Rs. 156 crore loss. After the two Divisions were merged, in 2022-2023, the losses came down by Rs. 101 crore," he claimed and said that gradually, the Mysuru Division will make profits.

The Mysuru Division has 1,072 buses and over 7,854 trips are operated daily across the State, catering to over 4 lakh passengers. KSRTC Divisional Controller Ashok Kumar and senior officials of the Division were present.

Woman delivers 4-kg baby girl successfully at Motherhood Hospital

Mysuru, Jan. 25- Twenty-four-year-old Nagaratnamma has given birth to a baby girl weighing 4 kgs at Motherhood Hospital in city.

The baby girl born is the heaviest in the district, by a normal delivery. It is a rare case for Indian baby's weight as a normal baby weight is around 2.5 to 3.5 kg at birth.

It was the patient's first pregnancy and was visiting the hospital for regular medical examinations. Throughout the pregnancy, she was healthy and the result of all her scans were normal. Later, she showed spontaneous onset of labour pain in her 9th month of pregnancy.

On admission she was assisted with the necessary care and treatment. She experienced prolonged labour for 22 hours and was given the requisite medication and medical assistance. On delivering the baby girl, a team of Neonatologists and Paediatricians monitored the heart rate to ensure stability and good health.

Dr. Shweta Nayak, Consultant Obstetrician and Gynaecologist and Gynae Laparoscopic Surgeon, Motherhood Hospital, said, "Everyone was taken by surprise in the delivery room, as it is one of the rare cases our staff has witnessed. It was a complicated situation, as there were chances of the baby getting stuck and suffer asphyxia (lack of oxygen & nutrients to the brain). But in the end, baby, and mother both were doing good, post-delivery."

Dr. B. Chetan, Consultant Neonatologist at Motherhood Hospital, said, "Generally having large babies is a family trait. These babies sometimes incur birth injuries to bones and nerves, as delivering them is a challenge. But our obstetrics team at Motherhood Hospital did an excellent job by delivering this baby safe, normally."

The mother and the baby were discharged on the 3rd day in stable condition, said B. Sandeep Patel, Facility Director, Motherhood Hospital, Yadavagiri, Mysuru.

'Prajadhwani Yatra' to reach Mysuru tomorrow

Congress leader calls for maximum turnout of party workers

Mysuru, Jan. 25 (PM&DM)- With the Congress party's ambitious Statewide 'Prajadhwani Yatra' set to arrive in Mysuru tomorrow (Jan. 26), senior party leader and a prominent Congress ticket aspirant from Chamundeshwari Assembly segment K. Marigowda has asked party workers of the Constituency to take part in large numbers at the party rally to take place at J.K. Grounds here tomorrow.

Marigowda

Addressing a meeting of Congress workers of Chamundeshwari Assembly segment at Puneet Convention Hall in Ramakrishnanagar here yesterday, Marigowda thanked the party workers for the overwhelming success of the party rally held at Lingadevarakoppal on Yelwal Road on Jan. 20.

Pointing out that 'Prajadhwani Bus Yatra,' which was launched by KPCC earlier this month ahead of Assembly polls, is scheduled to arrive in Mysuru from Chamarajanagar, he said that a rally will be held at J.K. Grounds at 3 pm tomorrow and party workers from Chamundeshwari Assembly segment should attend in large numbers so as to send out a message to rival political parties.

Stating that there are 337 Booths in the Constituency, he said that a 13-Member Committee has been formed for every Booth.

Maintaining that the Congress is committed for the welfare and upliftment of all sections of the society, Marigowda asked the party workers to reach out the welfare schemes launched by the Siddharamaiah Government five years ago to every household.

'Lack of discipline and poor organisation led to Congress defeat in last Assembly polls'

Mysuru, Jan. 25 (MK&DM)- KPCC Working President R. Dhruvanarayan said that despite launching several welfare and empowerment programmes for the poor and oppressed sections of the society, the Congress lost the last Assembly polls because of lack of discipline and poor organisation. He was addressing the KR Assembly constituency party workers called to discuss preparations for the party's 'Prajadhwani Yatra' rally in city on Jan. 26, at Chikkammaniketana Kalyana Mantapa in Kuvempunagar here yesterday.

Maintaining that the Congress gave everything for people's welfare when it was in power, Dhruvanarayan observed that, however, the party failed in reaching out to the voters on Government schemes and programmes of the Siddharamaiah-led Congress Government, which resulted in the party's defeat in the 2018 Assembly polls.

Asserting that the Congress is a truly secular and democratic party, the KPCC Working President said that the BJP was limited to just one religion as the party failed to give any ticket to Minority communities. Accusing the BJP of deleting unfavourable and minority voters from the electoral rolls, he said that the party workers must ensure the total success of the party rally to take place at J.K. Grounds tomorrow.

Continuing his tirade against the BJP Government, Dhruvanarayan alleged that the BJP was running a 40 percent Commission Government and many of its Ministers were involved in huge scams. The BJP has nothing to boast of its achievements and as such, it has planned to spend huge sums of money for winning the forthcoming Assembly polls, he said adding that the BJP was certain to taste defeat, despite its huge spending plans in the polls.

AAP kickstarts election campaign with bike rally in Chamaraja Constituency

Mysuru, Jan. 25 (KS)- Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) kickstarted its election campaign by taking out a bike rally in favour of Chamaraja Constituency ticket aspirant Malavika Gubbivani on Sunday.

Over 50 bikes took part in the rally from the Party Office at Hebbal to Panchamukhi Temple on Sayyaji Rao Road.

Addressing her supporters and volunteers, Malavika said: "We are getting good response from the general public throughout the Constituency and the good work done by Delhi CM Arvind Kejriwal and AAP's pro-people policies will be our assets. The sudden interest in long neglected health and education sector by the current administration is proof that they are worried about AAP making inroads. But the organised improvement in both Government Schools and Mohalla Clinic type Primary Health Care (PHC) is beyond the scope of these corruption ridden parties."

"How can they ever give you quality service?" she questioned.

While giving instructions to volunteers on election team structure and duties, she said that there are only a few months left for the election and they must work relentlessly to bring in pro-people governance.

AAP District Observer L. Rangaiah, Party leaders Usha Sampathkumar, Shivakumar, Harsha, Deepak, Vishwanath Kulkarni, T.M. Nagaraj, Mujahid Khan and others were present.

State likely to go to polls in May second week

Bengaluru, Jan. 25 (KMS&DM)- Even as speculations continue over the announcement of Assembly polls schedule, the Election Commission of India (ECI) is likely to hold the polls in the State in the second week of May in a single phase, it is reliably learnt.

Karnataka is the only State in South India that is going to the polls in a couple of months and the ECI plans to take the help of Police and other security forces of neighbouring States to maintain Law and Order during the polls and also ensure smooth and fair elections.

The ECI already has a tentative schedule in its hands, according to which the polls is going to be held for all the 224 Assembly segments in a single phase either on May 10 or 13 and the counting of votes is likely to be taken up on May 16 and the results announced the same day.

As preparations for the polls, the ECI is said to have held several round of discussions with top Police officials and bureaucrats, during which the officials were directed to complete important exams such as SSLC and PUC before the official announcement of the poll schedule, which is likely to happen either in the last week of March or first week of April.

The Karnataka Assembly has 224 constituencies and a party has to get 113 seats to gain majority for ruling the State for the next five years. The last Assembly polls was held in May 2018, when no party reached the magic number of 113 seats and subsequently a JD(S)-Congress Coalition Government was formed.

R. Ashok returns as Mandya District in-Charge Minister

Mandya, Jan. 25- After a gap of few years, Revenue Minister R. Ashok has been appointed as the new Mandya District in-Charge Minister, replacing Excise Minister K. Gopalaiah, who held the responsibility for exactly a year. The State Government issued an order to this effect yesterday.

R. Ashok

Excise Minister K. Gopalaiah, the MLA from Mahalakshmi Layout in Bengaluru, was appointed as Mandya and Hassan Districts in-Charge Minister on Jan. 24, 2022. But exactly a year later, Gopalaiah has been relieved of Mandya district and is continued as Hassan District in-Charge.

This will be the third stint for Ashok, the sitting BJP MLA from Padmanabhanagar Assembly segment in Bengaluru, as Mandya District in-Charge Minister, who currently did not hold responsibility as in-Charge Minister of any district.

Ashok had previously served as Mandya Minister first after Ramachandragowda had to quit Cabinet following charges against him when B.S. Yediyurappa-led BJP Government came to power in 2008 and for the second time in 2019, when Yediyurappa again formed the Government following the collapse of the JD(S)-Congress Coalition Government. But months later, Ashok had to hand over the Mandya in-Charge to K.C. Narayangowda, Minister for Sports and Silk and MLA from K.R. Pet, following a Government decision.

During the current Assembly term starting from May 2018, Mandya district has seen five District in-Charge Ministers, with the first one being C.S. Puttaraju of the JD(S) who was a Minister in the JD(S)-Congress Coalition Government, followed by R. Ashok, K.C. Narayanagowda, K. Gopalaiah, all of the BJP and now again R. Ashok, who is returning for the third time when the Assembly poll is round the corner.

Bhavani Revanna announces her candidature for Hassan seat

Hassan, Jan. 25- Even as the JD(S) is yet to announce its full list of candidates for the forthcoming Assembly polls, in an interesting development, Bhavani Revanna, wife of Holenarasipur MLA and former Minister H.D. Revanna, has publicly announced that she will contest as the party candidate from Hassan Assembly segment.

Bhavani Revanna

Speaking at the inauguration of newly built Annappaswamy Temple at Kakkehalli in Salagame hobli of Hassan taluk yesterday, Bhavani, who is a daughter-in-law of JD(S) Supremo and former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda, maintained that she was contesting the Assembly polls from Hassan seat due to pressure from party workers, who have resolved to extend their full support. She further claimed that JD(S) is likely to name her candidature from Hassan in a few days when the party announces its second list of candidates.

WORD OF THE DAY

Misanthrope

Pronunciation: MISS-un-throhp.

Meaning: Someone who hates people in general. Origin: Adopted in the early 17th century from Greek misanthrōpos, "hating humankind," (from misein, "to hate," and anthrōpos, "human being") its use was encouraged by French playwright Molière's 1666 satiric comedy Le Misanthrope, which depicts a bitter critic of society who chooses exile over contact with other people. Misanthrope has a close relation in misanthropy, "a hatred or distrust of humankind," which in turn has an opposite that, happily, is more common than either: philanthropy most often refers to the practice of giving time and money to help others; its Greek root means "loving humankind." Example: "Scholars writing in 2015 found that, even after correcting for gender, education, and age, the least cynical people saw an average monthly increase in income of about $300 over nine years. The most cynical saw no significant income increase at all. The authors explain this pattern by noting that cynics 'are more likely to forgo valuable opportunities for cooperation and consequently less likely to reap the benefits of joint efforts and mutual help.' In other words, being a misanthrope is costly." — Arthur C. Brooks

THE ODD WORD

Macrophobia

Fear of prolonged waiting.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Make a virtue of necessity

Meaning: Obtain kudos from apparently willingly doing something that one was in fact couldn't avoid doing. It is also used to mean 'submit with good grace'. Origin: This is first recorded in Chaucer. He used it in several texts, including The Canterbury Tales - the Knight's Tale:

Convertynge al unto his propre welle
From which it is dirryved, sooth to telle?
And heer-agayns no creature on lyve,
Of no degree, availleth for to stryve.
Thanne is it wysdom, as it thynketh me,
To maken vertu of necessitee, ...
In modern English:
Converting all back to that primal well
From which it was derived, 'tis sooth to tell.
And against this, for every thing alive,
Of any state, avalls it not to strive.
"Then is it wisdom, as it seems to me,
To make a virtue of necessity,...

QUOTE BOX

Courage is the most important of all the virtues because without courage, you can't practice any other virtue consistently. — Maya Angelou
